Regional Rural Banks

Objectives of Regional Rural Banks :

The importance of the rural banking in the economic development of a country cannot be overlooked. As Gandhiji said “Real India lies in Villages,” and village economy is the backbone of Indian economy. Without the upliftment of the rural economy as well as the rural people of our country, the objectives of economic planning cannot be achieved. In fact, the real growth of Indian economy lied in the freeing of rural masses from acute poverty, unemployment, and socio-economic backwardness.

Regional Rural Banks (RRBs) are oriented towards meeting the needs of the weaker sections of the rural population consisting of :

- Small and marginal farmers,
- Agricultural labourers,
- Artisans,
- Small entrepreneurs,
- Mobilise deposits from rural households

RRBs are expected to make credit available to rural households besides inspiring carefulness. Put it simple to ensure sufficient institutional credit for agriculture and other rural sectors.

The Credit Delivery System :

- Grant of credit at cheap or concessional rates
- Lending to individuals belonging to weaker sections without checking the viability of the activity proposed to be undertaken.

The Operational Area of RRB "

The area of operation of RRBs is limited to the area as notified by GoI covering one or more districts in the State.

Ownership of RRBs :

RRBs are jointly owned by Government of India (GOI), the concerned State Government and Sponsor Banks (27 scheduled commercial banks and one State Cooperative Bank); the issued capital of a RRB is shared by the owners in the proportion of 60%, 20% and 20% respectively.

Reform Process - RRBs

In order to provide access to low-cost banking facilities to the poor, the Narasimham Working Group (1975) proposed the establishment of a new set of banks, as institutions which "combine the local feel and the familiarity with rural problems which the cooperatives possess and the degree of business organization, ability to mobilize deposits, access to central money markets and modernized outlook which the commercial banks have".

RRBs started their development process on 2nd October 1975 with the formation of a single bank (Prathama Grameen Bank). As on 31 March 2006, there were 133 RRBs (post-merger) covering 525 districts with a network of 14,494 branches.

RBI Assistance

With a view to facilitate RRBs operations, the RBI gave RRBs direct access to refinance assistance at a concessional rate of three per cent below the bank rate.

Allowed to maintain a lower level of SLR than commercial banks.

Allowed to pay half per cent more interest on all deposits except those of three years and above.

Sponsor banks IDBI, NABARD, SIDBI, and other FIs are statutorily required under the RRBs Act to provide managerial and financial assistance to RRBs.

Evaluation of RRBs

The Committee constituted by the RBI in June 1977 to value the performance of RRBs concluded that with some modifications in their organisation and structure. The Committee to Review Arrangements for Institutional Credit for Agriculture and Rural Development which inter alia examined the role of RRBs in the rural development work, suggested the following :

- Preference for opening bank branches than commercial banks
- The eligible business of commercial banks' rural branches may be transferred to RRBs.
- The losses in initial years of RRBs may be met by shareholders and equity capital should also be raised.
- The various facilities provided by sponsor banks should continue for 10 yrs in each case
- Concessionary refinance by RBI should be continued
- The control, regulation, and promotional responsibilities should be transferred from the GOI to RBI or NABARD.

Regulatory Control

RRBs are allowed up to December 31, 2000 to maintain cash reserves at 3 per cent of their demand and time liabilities. A number of measures were taken since 1995 not only to make RRBs viable but also to enable them to function effectively.

Apart from recapitalisation and infusion of equity, the measures include : Deregulation of interest rates on advance and deposits of above one year maturity; rationalization of branches; and relaxation of norms relating to investments by RRBs.

In 1998-99 NABARD introduced several policy measures for improving overall performance.

They are :

- Quarterly / half yearly review of RRBs especially weak ones by the sponsor banks
- Merger of RRBs coming under a sponsor bank and operating in contiguous areas
- Off-site surveillance
- Framing of Appointment and Promotion rules (1998) for the staff of RRBs
- Introduction of Kissan Credit Cards for provision of credit to farmers.
